LA in midst of CAT-ACLYSM

Los Angeles – LA Animal Services needs your help!

Every spring, LA's Animal Care Centers are inundated with lost and homeless cats. Many cats coming into our Animal Care Centers are orphaned neonate kittens; kittens too young to survive without their mother unless they are cared for by a volunteer foster care giver.

LA Animal Services is asking Angelenos to consider becoming a volunteer foster parent today! All you need is a willingness and ability to feed and nurture these babies until they are old enough to be adopted (about 6-8 weeks old). Volunteers will receive training and a starter kit, including a supply of milk replacement, as well as other support.

Fostering orphaned kittens is a rewarding experience for individuals, families, seniors, and youth groups! It is a great family project that helps to teach our children the value of life and the importance of caring and compassion. It also demonstrates how we all can make a difference.

How can you help?

Please contact a LA Animal Services New Hope Coordinator at 888/ 452-7381 or visit www.laanimalservices.com for more information.
